

Electronic Trading in Financial Markets

Module-I Fundamentals of market structure

In this module, you will be introduced to market structure, market structure science, and market mechanics.

Module-II Fundamentals of electronic Trading

In this module, you'll learn the basic phases of evolution in trading markets and understand what trades electronically and why. You will also be able to apply market structure mechanics to financial systems and recognise the basic formats of electronic trading.

Module-III Mechanics of an order Book

In this module, you'll understand what an electronic order book is and its mechanics. You'll also learn how an exchange works and the functional limitations of an order book.

Module-IV Advance electronic trading

In this module, you'll learn about the dynamics of trading large size, benchmark algorithm, and mechanics of automated trading.

Module-V Electronic trading in Fixed Income

In this module, you'll learn about electronic trading protocols, basics of RFQ mechanics, and advanced RFQ mechanics.